Dear Dr McQuillan

Re: Outcome of initial accreditation application—granted

I refer to your application to have the course: Diploma of Meaning Centred Therapy (Logotherapy) Studies accredited by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) as delegate for the Training and Employment Recognition Council (the council).

In accordance with the provisions of the Vocational Education, Training and Employment Act 2000 (the Act), your application was granted on 1 May 2012. The code and title of the accredited course is:

30998QLD                      Advanced Diploma of Meaning Centred Therapy (Logotherapy) Studies

Records reflect the course owner as:

Legal name:            Dr Paul McQuillan
Trading name (if relevant):            Dr Paul McQuillan
National provider number (if relevant):            32386

The national register will be updated to include the details of the course, along with the details of the person nominated in the application for accreditation as the contact for public enquiries about the course.

This course will now be recognised as being nationally recognised training without the need for further accreditation within individual states and territories.

A copy of the Accreditation Evaluation Report is enclosed for your records.

This letter also serves as a certificate of accreditation for the purposes of section 47A(4)(b) of the Act.

A final electronic copy of the course is attached.

Period of accreditation

The course is accredited for 5 years, commencing on 1 May 2012, and expiring on 30 April 2017.

Conditions imposed on the accreditation of this course

The Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) may impose conditions on the accreditation of an accredited course. Such conditions may be imposed at the time of accreditation or be imposed or varied at any other time during the period of accreditation of the course.

Your obligations as a course owner

The AQTF Standards for Accredited Courses impose a number of obligations on you, as a course owner, throughout the course accreditation period.

1. Ongoing monitoring and evaluation

You must monitor and evaluate the course in accordance with the process outlined in the accredited course document. Records of monitoring and evaluation activities should be retained. The course must continue to comply with the standards throughout the period of accreditation.

2. Amendments to the course

You must apply to ASQA to make any amendment to the course and, if required, provide any relevant material to enable ASQA to confirm that the course remains current and relevant and that it continues to comply with the relevant standards for the accreditation of courses. Proposed significant changes will result in the need to apply for accreditation of a new course. Following the approval of any changes to the course, you must advise registered training organisations that you have licensed/franchised to deliver the course of changes made as a result of monitoring and evaluation and any other changes to the course, such as its accreditation status and date of expiry.

3. Other obligations

You must not make any misleading statement regarding the accredited course and if required, will participate in strategic evaluations initiated by ASQA, the Ministerial Council, or a delegate of the Ministerial Council

Cancellation of accreditation

You may apply to cancel the accreditation of this course at any time throughout the period of accreditation. The accreditation will be cancelled if ASQA is satisfied that it is appropriate to do so.

Please note that ASQA may, on its own initiative and under certain circumstances, cancel the accreditation of this course. You will be advised of any intention to do so.

Renewal of accreditation

An application to renew the accreditation of the course must be made at least three months before the accreditation expiry date. Whilst you will be issued with a reminder notice as the expiry date approaches, it is your responsibility to ensure an application for renewal is submitted three months before expiry.

Delivery of the course

Each organisation seeking to deliver the course must be a registered training organisation (RTO) and must apply to have the course added to its scope of registration.

Further information and assistance

If you require further information or assistance in relation to this matter, please contact Course Accreditation on telephone 1300 701 801 or by email at accreditation@asqa.gov.au.

Yours sincerely

Kerry Davey
